Number 1

Note What the Locals are telling you

They have the 411 on a lot of things. Listening to them can add an extra razzle dazzle into your adventure!

Number 2

Wait for the next train after a delay

OR try to catch the earlier trains

Once a delay happens, everyone will try to squeeze themselves in on the arriving train. If you wait the next one or the after that, it becomes very spacious.

Number 3

Gatekeep the recommendations that are given

They liked you enough to tell you about a nice place. If they don't mention that this place is tourist spot, that means keep your mouth shut. If you don't, they will only talk about tourist spots.

Number 4

Play your role as a foreigner

They are looking at you to be respectful
yes. However, they also expect foreigners to act in certain matters, especially in social circles.

Number 5

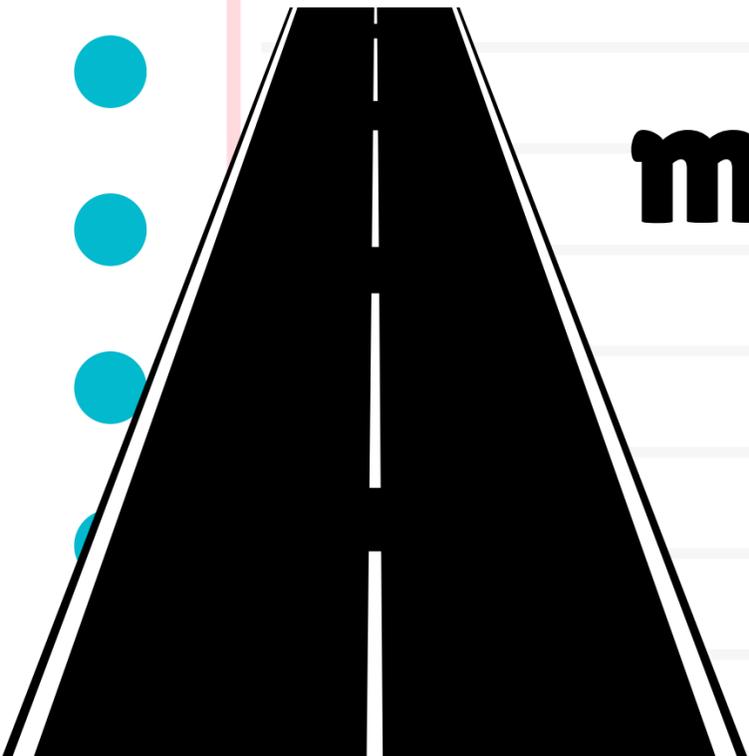

Embrace the tourist spots

Even though it's okay to go off the beaten path, there is a reason why those spots exist
and will continue to exist.

Number 5

Embrace the tourist spots

Depending on the line, a lot of the smaller train stops are mainly for residents and their love ones who live there.

Number 6

Just because "everyone"
KNOWS English, doesn't mean they SPEAK ENGLISH!!!

Number 7

WORK - You CANNOT teach an old dog new tricks

The system can be broken, inconvenient, and dilapidating, but that is THEIR system. You are just gonna have to take it on the chin.

Number 8

Work - Learn the skill of Looking Busy

It don't matter if you can finish all task in the span of five minutes. You need to make this task look like it is unfinished until the deadline.

Number 9

Work - If they don't know, you don't know either!

Most of us aren't psychic or Charles Xavier.

We can't read their mind. There might be a lot of last minute changes to things that are happening for some and no reason. You can't predict what they will want to do, so don't think about.

Number 10

Have fun and take the detour

What ever the snowman Spongebob said.

Going with flow or having a bit of curiosity will open you up to new places and experiences.

Change your server to the destination

Yes – every country has a different server on the same website.

It's like having a tunnel with different route are connected .

Once you get on their internet server, you will see more local events and ads to get more info.
